pect for good crops in Tarrant county for several years as there is at present. The wheat and rye, wet and warm for oats hold the runaways.

Oats are looking splendidly, but of course will need showers in future to insure a full yield. Cotton planting has progressed to a considerable extent, and as soon as the soil dries sufficiently will be the order of the day all over the country. Taken all in all the chances for bounteous harvests for the year of our Lord, 1887, are most encouraging. This given and Texas will experience a boom whose astounding magnitude will astonish even the natives.

Thayer-Flenner.

Rev. R. M. Tinnon of the Cumberland Presbyterian church was instrumental last night in making two happy hearts beat as one, when he spoke the words that joined Mr. Henry E. Thaver and Miss Jennie M.
